IT professionals from three different companies will share their experiences related to the dynamics at work. The panelists have a variety of backgrounds in terms of years of experience and work assignments. Some of the questions that will be raised include: What happens after you graduate? How do you go about planning a career? How demanding is work? How do you learn how to do your job? How do you handle work-life balance? How do you manage your benefits (vacation days, retirement planning, having kids, etc.)?
