Jeannine Abele joined GE Aviation in November, 2004 as CIO, Global Service Shops. In March, 2005 she was promoted to CIO, GE Aviation Services where she is responsible for IT Strategic Planning, Execution and Operations.

Before joining GE, Jeannine spent over 17 years at The Procter and Gamble Company. Most recently, she was IT Associate Director for the Feminine Care Business Unit where she managed IT programs at four technical centers (US, Germany, Japan, Venezuela) and 20 global plants (spanning North America, Europe, Asia, and Latin America). During her P&G career, she held numerous IT leadership positions in support of P&G's Health Care, Beauty Care and Paper businesses.

Jeannine holds a Bachelor of Science in Computer Information Systems from Purdue University and is pursuing an MBA from Xavier University. She grew up in Cleveland, OH and is still a loyal Browns and Indians fan.

She is married and has two children, ages 16 and 8. She enjoys spending quality time with her family most of all.
